POLICE ACT 1998

Directions to The Commissioner of Police<sup>3/4</sup>Anti-Corruption BranchPreamble

The prevention, detection and punishment of corruption are essential to the maintenance of good government and the rule of law and public confidence in government, public officials and legal processes.

South Australia Police has the primary responsibility for the prevention and detection of crime and the enforcement of the laws of the State.

Accordingly, it is essential that South Australia Police itself exhibit the highest standards of integrity.

In order to ensure the maintenance of such standards within South Australia Police and to enhance its capacity to combat corruption generally, it is considered desirable that there be a separate branch of South Australia Police that is dedicated to the prevention and detection of corruption and subject to specific accountability and reporting requirements.
